IPOCCWWA—ONLINE LECTURE SERIES 2025

Join us on the 23/04/2025 @ 10:00 AM CET (Free of Charge)

CZECH INSTITUTE OF EGYPTOLOGY
Faculty of Arts
Charles University

The Impact of Political and Climate Change on Women's Agency: A Social Power Analysis
IPOCCWWA* - Grant No 101148700

Funded by the European Union

All are invited to the next exciting Zoom online lecture in the series, "Agency in the First Intermediate Period." This is the second of four lectures over a 12 month period. These lectures will feature diverse perspectives from specialists who will explore the multifaceted nature of agency during the First Intermediate Period and beyond. Our next lecture will feature Dr. Dana Bělohoubková who will present her paper:

On wr.t-ḫnr and ḥm.t-nṯr. Can We Speak of Parallel Careers for the High Priest and His Wife?

D. Bělohoubková's main field of interest is the New Kingdom Egypt, especially archaeology, gender studies, art history, and religious and profane texts of this period. Since her B.A. studies, she specializes in royal ideology and the legitimization of power based on detailed studies of royal and elite tombs, temples and biographies. Her dissertation thesis deals with the topic of female participants in the cult at the institution of musical performers.